

What is Endorsement?

Skills for Care Endorsement is the bespoke quality mark that is given to the best learning and development providers within the adult social care sector. To become endorsed you must be able to clearly evidence that the training delivered makes a significant difference, not only to the learner but also to the person accessing care and support.

Centre of Excellence: going above and beyond

We've developed our Endorsement to recognise the best learning providers for the adult social care sector but some learning providers demonstrate exemplary practice. Centre of Excellence status is awarded to those organisations who continually evolve to meet the needs of the sector and provide innovative solutions for the learner journey.

We're extremely proud of our Skills for Care Endorsement. It has helped raise our profile across social media and we've been approached more frequently by other care agencies requesting training since becoming a Centre Of Excellence. It's also supported us to become closer as a team by sharing a sense of pride in our achievements.

Endorsement... the benefits

	Quality assurance – your clients and learners will have confidence in the quality and delivery of the training you provide.
	Raise the profile of your business – you'll be instantly recognised as a quality learning provider.
	Feature in our endorsed learning provider directory – employers regularly use the directory to find high quality learning.
	Receive the exclusive endorsed provider newsletter – a quarterly update with news, updates and opportunities exclusively available to you as an endorsed provider.
	Programme licences – our popular licenced programmes are exclusively available for endorsed providers.
	Benefit from the Skills for Care networks – we use our networks to promote our endorsed providers, directing traffic to our endorsed learning provider directory.
	Bookshop – as an endorsed provider you can benefit from a 10% discount from any of the full priced publications in our bookshop.
	Reflective tool – learning providers who have achieved endorsement have found the process to be an invaluable opportunity to review their processes and practices.
	Improve your own staff morale – share the success of being recognised as a high quality learning provider with your own workforce.

Being endorsed by Skills for Care for the past year has massively improved people's perception of the quality of our courses and this has opened more doors, especially with larger organisations. This endorsement certainly lends credibility to our product, as Skills for Care is synonymous with quality in the industry. We are very proud of our endorsement and long may this relationship continue.
