

A summary of the adult social care sector and workforce in Halton

2017/18

Skills for Care, as the leading source of adult social care workforce intelligence, has created this summary because good quality information about the workforce is vital to help inform planning and decision making. This will contribute to the delivery of high quality social care services and improve outcomes for people who use these services, both now and in the future.

The information within this summary has been produced by Skills for Care using the National Minimum Data Set for Social Care (NMDS-SC). We use the data collected by the NMDS-SC to create workforce models that, in turn, allow for estimates of the whole adult social care workforce and its characteristics to be produced. The * notation throughout refers to use of raw data from the NMDS-SC.

Size and structure of the workforce in this area

In 2017 the adult social care sector in England had an estimated 21,200 organisations, 41,000 care providing locations and 1.6 million jobs. In Halton there were an estimated 3,200 jobs in adult social care split between local authorities (26%), independent sector providers (53%) and jobs for direct payment recipients (21%). As at September 2018 Halton contained 35 CQC regulated services; of these, 26 were residential and 9 were non-residential services.

The adult social care workforce is growing. Across England it has increased by 21% since 2009, and in the North West region, by 1% since 2012.

If the workforce grows proportionally to the projected number of people aged 65 and over then the number of adult social care jobs in the North West region will increase by 34% (from 213,000 to 285,000 jobs) by 2035. Recruitment and retention

Skills for Care estimates that the turnover rate in Halton was 32.9%, which was higher than the region average of 30.2% and similar to England at 30.70%. Not all turnover results in workers leaving the sector, over three quarters (79%) of those recruited came from within the adult social care sector, therefore although employers need to recruit to these posts, the sector retains their skills and experience.

Adult social care has an experienced 'core' of workers. Workers in Halton had on average 8.9 years of experience in the sector and 77% of the workforce had been working in the sector for at least three years.
