

Being prepared for CQC assessment

Help to demystify the assessment process and uncover how best to gather evidence to be prepared for the Care Quality Commission (CQC).

Boost your confidence and knowledge about the CQC assessment process and how to evidence your quality of care complies with the national standards.

This one-day facilitated session covers the step-by-step ways to be ready to evidence that your service meets CQC expectations to achieve a Good or Outstanding rating.

You will learn about:

- the CQC Single Assessment Framework, including the new areas of assessment focus
- successful approaches to being ready when the CQC inspector calls and visits
- how to involve others in helping you to prepare
- what resources are available to help.

Who's it for?

This seminar supports managers and teams from adult social care providers who are less familiar with CQC assessment and looking to become better prepared and more confident.

 I feel better prepared. The trainers were excellent, very engaging and interesting. I also loved the networking and hearing the valuable responses of other people on the course.

Alan Taylor, Care Manager
Christadelphian Care Homes

Exclusive toolkit and other resources

All delegates attending this seminar will receive a range of practical resources to support their learning including:

- Being prepared for CQC assessment toolkit: a 70-page document covering key learning and practical activities
- Handouts and slide notes: supporting your learning and engagement during the seminar
- Certificate: providing evidence of your attendance.

☾ We thoroughly enjoyed the training, and the delivery was outstanding. Some managers are very experienced and some very new to the role and all gained new skills. ☾

Sarah Woodward, Service Lead Manager
